

Jacqueline's art has been scientifically proven to help raise our VIBRATIONS!

SCIENTIFIC TESTIMONIALS

"Each person who sees an object of art responds to their association with it. All depends upon the level where one is in consciousness. As people grow in consciousness, they also respond to higher levels of consciousness portrayed in her artwork, or objects of her art. Jacqueline has put together not only new crystals into Art, but does so in a way that her field has manipulated those crystals to tell a story. She reveals more in the story than is perceived on the material level. and has, in fact, told the ultimate story -- which is the spiritual story of mankind.

"Jacqueline intensifies the emotional power of the subtle vibrations of colors in her etheric painting, Jacob's Dream. Outwardly and inwardly, it depicts our spiritual union with the Divine, God. Her enlightened message through art is the universal inspiration needed to calm the current explosive turmoil of people around the world.

Jacqueline Ripstein combines composite artistic skills with crystal-impregnated paint to produce a luminescence beyond the light of the great masters. Her paintings are profound, full-spectrum consciousness experiences. "

ON THE ART OF JAQUELINE RIPSTEIN : "THE INVISIBLE COLOR CARRIER OF LIGHT " ILODKA HAREZI

"There is one universal language, and that is the language of light frequency, color. Color is the language of oneness. The art of Jacqueline Ripstein transcends the use of the color light spectrum to stimulate one's innate ability to self-heal and evolve through the consciousness of spirit. The human being is a color-harmonic energy-based system living within a light matrix and evolving rhythmically through movement and balance -- basically, art.

"Jacqueline Invisible Art as an energy expression is a reflection of, and a predetermining factor in, our anatomical, spiritual, and emotional history and future; those who can utilize art as this carrier have the potential of rearranging energy patterns through advanced color harmonies, and to beneficially affect health, happiness, and longevity." –[Ilonka Harezi is a researcher who has been studying the effect of electromagnetic frequencies (EMFs) on the human body.]

"Jacqueline Ripstein is, in essence, one of the divine messengers whose visual screen is able to bring forth a scintillating field of ideographic language, a Rosetta picture emanating a sense of transformation.

Her ability is to draw upon effulgent realities from the past and future to express the underlying unity of the consciousness that permeates all realms of being. (2008).

"I write this testimonial to you, Jacqueline, who must continue to reveal your great artistic gift to the world. Your work carries forth great psychological and spiritual insights for humanity. As a world-renowned painter, you have always encouraged people of all backgrounds and religions to see the higher theme of the Divine Feminine as a spark of actual experience in a world beset by the clouds of uncertainty and climate change. Now it is especially timely that you proceed with your next great project, bringing together the themes of the Feminine in the East and West. (2010)."

"In the painting Heaven to Earth 2009, the new art of Jacqueline Ripstein heralds the opening of the dimensions to the 'House of Many Mansions.' A new vision is awakened within us. There is bliss from the soul, longing for the compassion of the Eternal Spirit within us. The threshold to space and time is opened, and a new consciousness arises. There is bliss when Thoughts of Enlightenment descend from above. "There is bliss from the living Love of the Divine that flows through us!"

DIGITAL HEALTH

Jacqueline's art has proven to be as soothing to the body as it is to the spirit. These effects have been documented by Vaughn R. Cook, OMD. We are pleased to offer his research findings to you.

June 1, 1999 Dear Jacqueline,

It was a pleasure spending time with you. As promised, I am sending you this letter describing our experience.

I am involved with a technology known as Meridian Stress Assessment. This technology is a combination of Eastern and Western medical concepts involving the measurement of electrical conductivity of the skin. Electrical conductivity is a well-established marker for stress. As a person becomes more stressed, skin conductance increases, whereas a calm person will show higher electrical resistance, or lower conductivity.

Acupuncture points are situated on the skin at various locations. One of the characteristics of an acupuncture point is that it is more electrically sensitive or conductive than surrounding tissue. These points are connected in an organized fashion along pathways called meridians. There are a number of meridians on the body, each associated with a major internal organ from which it derives its name -- for example, the heart meridian, the lung meridian, the liver meridian and so forth.

As these organs and their associated tissues or body systems become, for whatever reason, stressed, this stress will be reflected in the electrical conductivity of the associated acupuncture points. As an example, if a person is suffering from a chest cold, affecting primarily the lungs, points along the lung meridian will manifest the stress caused by the illness.

Meridian Stress Assessment is the process of testing points on the body, usually the hands and feet, to determine where stress is occurring in the body. With the aid of computer technology, we are then able to simulate therapeutic intervention and determine which therapeutic option is most likely to relieve stress and restore the body's balance or homeostasis.

Our experience at your home was to measure the stress patterns on one hand of each of five people. After taking their baseline readings, we had each person spend time viewing your art. We then repeated the test on the same hand. The only variable was the intervening experience with your art. In every case, the readings taken after the art was viewed were more balanced. The effect the art had on each person was different (as reflected in the readings) and in all cases, not all points balanced. But the results were impressive. Your art most definitely has a calming, balancing, and healing effect.

I wish you all the best in your ensuing venture and look forward to a continued association.

Sincerely, Vaughn R. Cook, OMD.

*"Jacqueline's art has a very high frequency. I measured Our Lady of the Universe using kinesiology, and out of 1000 it measured 980, enlightenment! All of her paintings that I have experienced have checked in at 900 frequency range." --DR. Kirby Hotchner, D.O.*

Dr. Masaru Emoto and his wife, Kazuko, with Jacqueline. "It's human nature to create art and music that readjusts the vibrations distorted by history history."

Hi, Jacqueline, thank you for your kind message. You are an angel in the world and I wish you all the very best along your journey.

-- Dr. Jill Bolte Taylor, author, My Stroke of Insight (Viking 2008)

"The Art of Jacqueline Ripstein has healing properties, and it helps raise our consciousness...I had the honor to study the work of Jacqueline and its technique, 'Invisible Light & Art Technique.' It's a clear example of the holistic use of the senses in the perception of signs of the Intelligent Universe. "Jacqueline has discovered the logic within the Harmonic Oscillators that allows the decoding of all information that flows from the Universe into us through our senses. Our perception expands. As we contemplate Jacqueline's art, It may seem as if time stops.

"The presence of the penta-band and the tri-band were present in the two works that I have analyzed, detecting the harmonic of curves that can be translated to sounds with identical convergent structure with the Schumann resonances. In the spectrum of audio, the color is declared of sublime form to the perception of a symphony with four different, but coherent, movements with the theory of the all."
